FELL TO DEATH FROM TRESTLE

Mr. Myers Well Known in the Upper End of Adams County Falls to Death from Trestle. A Former Resident of near Gardners.

William E. Myers, formerly of near Gardners and widely known in the upper end of Adams County, a conductor on the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, was instantly killed Monday morning when he stepped from the bridge crossing the Swatara creek at Hummelstown and fell a distance of sixty-three feet. His neck was broken. The body was not found until two hours later when he was missed by the members of the crew.

The freight train, of which Conductor Myers had charge had left the Rutherford yards a short time before and was going eastward. It had passed while passing over the bridge at Hummelstown, and the conductor stepped from a car and in the darkness stepped over the edge of the bridge. The body was taken to Harrisburg.

Conductor Myers resided in Harrisburg, and is survived by a wife and one child. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen the Philadelphia and Reading Relief Association and the Star of America Lodge, No. 113, Knights of Malta.

Mr. Myers formerly resided near Gardners. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Myers now reside near Hunters Run. One brother and two sisters also survive. Mr. Myers was 28 years old and was on the road six years.

DECIDE AGAINST SUNDAY FISHING

Gettysburg Sportsmen Decide to Cast their Vote against the Pastime on Sundays. Some Want Seven Days of Fishing.

Gettysburg Camp United Sportsmen of Pennsylvania have cast the majority of their votes against the proposition to allow Sunday fishing within the bounds of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The state body in taking the vote of the various camps decided that a unanimous vote for the measure should count three, a majority vote two and a minority vote one. The local sportsmen were divided in their opinion but the majority stood for no Sunday fishing and as a result the vote of the Gettysburg camp goes in as for 2, Against 1.

The local organization is just now urging with a great deal of vigor the law to prevent gillnetting and is bringing considerable pressure to bear upon the lawmakers and others to near their influence. In the country districts where farmers have been accustomed to use the gill to secure the fish there is some opposition to the measure which the local anglers want to have made a law.

The local camp has been informed of the state convention which will be held at Huntingdon on June 27, 28 and 29 and it is believed that Gettysburg will be well represented at that time.

HIGHLY COMPLIMENTED

The Harrisburg Star Independent says of the Rev. Rene H. Williams of that city, who is well known here,

"Mr. Williams attended Gettysburg College, where he graduated in theology, and began his pulpit career. His first charge was in Peabody, Kansas, and from there he went to Oklahoma City, where he was among the first citizens of the brand new state in its incipency. From Oklahoma he went to Denver, and then the call of the East became so strong that he headed it and came back to old Pennsylvania, to its capital, succeeding the Rev. Luther DeVos as pastor of Messiah Lutheran church in Harrisburg."

"That was in 1905, and Mr. Williams has since been pastor of Messiah with all the success that his best friends could wish for him. Both as pastor and preacher he has gotten close to his people and they love him for his strong, straight forward manliness. Presiding over a congregation of 1,200 and taking an active interest in a Sunday school of 1,100, Mr. Williams has his share of clerical work mapped out for him, but he does it successfully and he keeps up the splendid reputation so well earned by his predecessors at Messiah."

"Mr. Williams is an active member of the Eastern Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran Church, participating in all of its meetings. He is a Mason, belonging to a Western lodge; an Odd Fellow and a Knight of Pythias. Personally he is of the modern type of ministers taking an active interest in human affairs and a more than active interest in matters spiritual."

SEARS PLEADS LAPSE OF MEMORY

THE EVIDENCE IS ALL IN Half-Breed Declares He Did Not Know What He Was Doing When He Murdered Benefactor and Wife.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 1.—John Sears, the half-breed murderer of Rev. and Mrs. Amzi L. Armstrong, told a remarkable story of lapse of memory when he took the stand in his own defense in the Mercer county court here.

Sears has already confessed that he murdered the aged minister and his wife at the parsonage of the Dutch Neck Presbyterian church on Thanksgiving eve last.

He took the stand in his own defense and said that he shot Rev. and Mrs. Armstrong, but didn't know what he was doing at the time. He gave in detail his every action on the day of the murder up to the time Mrs. Armstrong called him "nigger." Then, he said, his mind became a blank. He took a double barreled gun in the corner of the room and first shot the aged minister through the heart. Mrs. Armstrong picked a heavy paper weight from the table and hurled it at the head of the half-breed. Sears ducked the paper weight and then shot Mrs. Armstrong.

Sears said that he remembered a flash and he thought it must have been the flash of the gun. He remembered in detail his every movement after that time, during which he went to New Brunswick to the rooms of his National Guard company, where he posed as a white man, and until the return to his home shortly after midnight on Thanksgiving morning. Then, according to the mulatto's remarkable testimony, as he stepped upon the porch to go into the house, it flashed across his mind that he had done something wrong. He then realized, he said, for the first time that he had murdered the couple who were his benefactors and who had taken care of him, together with his mother, for upward of thirty years.

Sears said there was absolutely no reason why he should have murdered Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong and claimed that he didn't know what he was doing. He was the only witness offered for the defense and the case will go to the jury after the summing up of counsel today.

MASKED MEN ROB HOUSE

While Kooker was at the supper table two masked men, displaying revolvers, entered the house. Mrs. Kooker and a serving maid were the only other persons in the house, and the intruders at once attacked Mr. Kooker, striking him with a blackjack and rendering him unconscious. Then they fired their revolvers to frighten the women and proceeded to ransack the house.

During the day Kooker had gone to bank with $300, and all the robbers got was a few dollars and some trinkets. Kooker remained unconscious for some time and is suffering from his severe injuries. Mrs. Kooker, who is an invalid, is said to be in a critical condition from fright and nervous shock.

Parliament Is Opened.

London, Feb. 1.—The second parliament of King George assembled with little ceremony, the spectacular function being reserved for next Monday, when the king and queen will open the proceedings in state. Mr. Lowther was re-elected speaker. The week will be devoted to the swearing in of the members and to meetings of political factions to decide the course which they will pursue with regard to the veto bill and other measures.

Virginia Holds Up Taft Auto License.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 1.—The state of Virginia will not issue a license to the president of the United States to operate his automobiles without the payment of the proper fee. Clerk J. M. Hays held up the request of Secretary Norton for four automobile licenses for the use of the president. Virginia wants $60 from the president.

Philadelphia Bars "La Samaritaine." Philadelphia, Feb. 1.—Mme. Sarah Bernhardt will not present "La Samaritaine" in the Broad Street theater during her stay in this city. The ministerial forces which have been protesting against the impersonation of Christ on the stage have won their battle. The impersonation of Christ on the stage is the cause of the protest.

College Women Flee Fire in Nighties.

Baltimore, Feb. 1.—The Maryland College for Women, at Lutherville, Baltimore county, was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $100,000. Little of value was saved, many of the 100 or more students losing all their effects. Occupants of North hall, where the fire started, fled in a panic, some of them in their night dresses.

CIVIL SERVICE IN PENNA.

Bill Aims to Take Employees of Third Class Cities Out of Politics.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 1.—The state civil service bill, designed to take employees of the state out of the realm of politics, was introduced in the house by Mr. Wallace, of Lawrence, but as to its chances of getting by the vigilance of the Republican organization leaders, that is a problem.

The bill is backed by the Civil Service Reform association. It is a measure of great significance, and if its advocates are successful in getting it through, its provisions will include at least 5000 state offices and at least as many more in case it should be applied to the larger counties and the third-class cities.

The administration of the law, it is proposed, is to be in the hands of a state civil service commission, to consist of three members to be appointed by the governor.

The opening gun in the fight for local option was fired in the house when Mr. Boyd, of Westmoreland, introduced what is in substance the Fair local option bill of the last session, and which is to be supported by the local optionists throughout the state and by the Anti-Saloon league.

This bill provides that upon petition of 25 per centum of the qualified electors at the previous general election in any borough, township or ward of any city, the court shall order an election to be held not less than thirty nor more than forty days from the time the petition is filed, to decide by a majority vote whether or not licenses shall be granted in such community, for the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Elections upon this issue may be held every three years in any borough, township or ward of any city. Under the terms of this bill saloons could be wiped out, and three years later licenses could again be granted in any such community.

COLORED MEN SHOT IN DELAWARE RIOT

Merchant Fires on Mob Storming His Store.

Nassau, Del., Feb. 1.—A pitched battle between Samuel Paynter, a storekeeper, and a crowd of colored men resulted in several of the men being shot.

A gang of colored men were looting in Paynter's store, making unnecessary noise and trouble and refused to leave when Paynter ordered them out. Paynter procured his gun and again told them to leave, and when they still stayed, shot into the crowd. The load hit Luther Tingle in the leg, tearing the calf.

The store was cleared when Paynter shot, but when the men got outside they began shooting through the windows. Paynter crouched behind his counter and kept the gang at bay. Although several of the colored men were shot, Paynter escaped without injury.

The little store was almost shot to pieces. All the windows were smashed. Paynter has been assured of the support of the white men of the vicinity, and any effort to arrest him probably will be met with force.

The colored men who took part in the affair are keeping quiet, fearing the vengeance of the white men of the town, who have declared that such affairs must stop.

The Home Doctor

Noted Physician's Prescriptions
Save Suffering and Money—
Preserve Them.

Go to your druggist and get "Two ounces of Glycerine and half an ounce of Concentrated Pine compound. Mix these with half a pint of good whiskey. Shake well. Take one or two teaspoonsful after each meal and at bed time. Smaller doses to children according to age." Any one can prepare this at home. This is said to be the quickest cough and cold cure known to the medical profession. Be sure to get only the genuine (Globe) Concentrated Pine. Each half ounce bottle comes in a tin screw-top sealed case. If the druggist is out of stock he will quickly get it from his wholesalerhouse. Don't fool with uncertain mixtures. It is risky.

Splendid for Indigestion.
A wonderful digestif—mixture, which quickly relieves distress after eating, headaches, belching, sour stomach, distaste, etc., and if used for sufficient time, will completely cure the worst case of dyspepsia. It is the following:
"Two ounces essence of Peppermint; three ounces syrup of Ginger; one ounce Catarrh compound. These to be mixed in a six-ounce bottle, shake well and use in doses from one to two teaspoonsful after each meal and at bed time. The Catarrh is a comparatively recent preparation and may not be kept in stock by some of the smaller druggists, but he can get it very promptly from his wholesalerhouse. This is surely worth trying by any one with stomach trouble. In hospital work it has been very successful.

Best Rheumatism Prescription.
This has been well known to the best doctors for years and is now given to the public "Get one ounce of syrup of Sarsaparilla compound and one ounce Toris compound. Then get half a pint of good whiskey and put the other two ingredients into it. Take a tablespoonful of this mixture before each meal and at bed time. Shake the bottle before using." Good effects are felt the first day. Many of the worst cases have been cured by this. Any druggist has these ingredients on hand or will quickly get them from his wholesalerhouse. Any one can mix them.

FRISCO WINS IN CANAL FAIR FIGHT

New Orleans Overwhelmingly Defeated in House.

CARRY FIGHT TO THE SENATE

Washington, Feb. 1.—After months of pulling and hauling by representatives of San Francisco and New Orleans, the house of representatives voted to the Pacific coast city the Panama canal exposition, which is to be held in 1915.
First the house voted 188 to 159 to take up the resolution to invite the other nations of the world to participate in an exposition at San Francisco instead of a bill of similar tenor for New Orleans. This showed where the victory was going and, after more discussion, the resolution itself went through with a whoop.
The votes in favor of it numbered 259, while only 43 votes were cast against it.

Now the fight between the two cities, which has been waged ever since congress convened, will be transferred to the senate.
In submitting the special rule under which the exposition was considered, Representative Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, said the rules committee had been appealed to, as neither city was willing to concede the other city's claims first considered.

It was thereupon determined to put the issue squarely up to the house and have a roll call on which those favoring the San Francisco proposition were to answer "San Francisco" and those favoring New Orleans to answer "New Orleans."
The San Francisco proposition was contained in a joint resolution which simply asked the government to recognize the exposition and invite foreign nations to participate.

The New Orleans proposition was contained in a house bill asking recognition by the government, an invitation to foreign nations to participate and calling for an appropriation of $1,000,000 for a government exhibit.

The galleries held the greatest crowd of the session. Many of the spectators were women.

Representative Kahn's resolution to invite foreign nations to participate in an exposition at San Francisco then came before the house. It provided that the president should invite foreign nations to participate in the exposition when satisfied that $7,500,000 had been raised for the fair. Mr. Kahn asked that the amount be raised to $15,000,000 and the amendment was agreed to.

400 DEAD IN EARTHQUAKE

Famine and Pestilence Feared in Philippine District.

Manila, Feb. 1.—It is now estimated that the number of fatalities resulting from the volcanic eruptions of Mount Taal number 400.

The newspapers receive sensational reports to say hundreds having been killed, but the figure given is probably correct. The number of earthquake shocks registered at the Manila observatory was 537. This included twenty-five shocks of considerable intensity.
Hundreds of persons have left Manila to visit the scene of the eruptions and the surrounding lake district. The greatest danger now is from hunger and pestilence.

Garland, of South Dakota, to be circuit judge for the eighth circuit, and Julian W. Mack, of Illinois, to be circuit judge for the seventh district.

MINE WORKERS ATTACK MITCHELL

Must Quit Civic Federation or the Union.

SOCIALISTS AGAINST HIM

Former President of Mine Workers Will Have Until April to Decide to Which Organization He Will Cling.

Columbus, O., Feb. 1.—After debating the question at two previous conventions, the United Mine Workers of America, by a vote of 1213 to 967, decided to amend the constitution so that John Mitchell, former president of the miners, will either have to resign from the Civic Federation or get out of the miners' organization.

The amendment stipulates that all miners becoming mine bosses, superintendents, members of the National Civic Federation or other organizations allied with the employer class shall be ineligible to the membership of the United Mine Workers.

The Socialist element of the convention voted almost solidly against the connection of Mitchell with the Civic Federation, as did also the Lewis strength. Mitchell will have until next April to decide to which organization he will cling. A year ago he was quoted as saying that he would not forsake the miners under any consideration.

The amendment probably will land the next convention, although Washington, Portland, Ore., Columbus and other cities are seeking to win the honor. Although it has been suggested that Columbus be selected for permanent headquarters, the idea has been given up.

In a telegram to the convention, John Mitchell, from New York, declared the action a "cruel injustice," and went on to say:

"I recognize the legal right of the convention to enact this legislation, and while I believe that an investigation should have been made by your convention before passing judgment adverse to the National Civic Federation and against me personally, nevertheless, I submit to your wishes, although I shall live in the consciousness that the men and women at home, for whom I worked for many years, will not concur in your conclusions."

NO HOPE FOR ARCHBISHOP

Venerable Prelate Rallies, But Physicians Make No Promises.

Philadelphia, Feb. 1.—Little change was noted in the condition of Archbishop Ryan. Although he had several severe sinking spells he rallied each time.

He was much cheered with visits and messages from eminent clergymen and received a cable blessing and message of sympathy from Pope Pius, which greatly delighted him.

His physicians gave out the following statement:

"The archbishop has been quite agitated and troubled and has been very restless. His good spirits, however, have by no means been affected. Later he quieted down and felt strong enough to sit up a little while.

"He had a confidential talk with Archbishop Farley, his old friend since early days, which evidently cheered his mind. There is no prospect at all for his early recovery, but, on the contrary, it seems to be the other way. We can hold out no hope at the present time."

The archbishop was wonderfully pleased and cheered when his secretary, Father Kavanagh, conveyed to him the cablegram from Rome announcing the papal blessing for his grace and inquiring as to his condition. The pope expressed his wishes for the archbishop's early recovery and announced that he had written him a letter.

Severely Mauled by a Lion.

London, Feb. 1.—George Gray, the brother of the British foreign minister, was severely mauled by a lion Sunday near the Athi river, East Africa. He was stalking lions with Sir Alured Pease and others, when one of the beasts chased and seized him and worried him as a cat does a mouse. He was rescued with the greatest of difficulty. He is recovering.

Long and Short Haul Law Stayed.

Washington, Feb. 1.—It appeared, through an order by the interstate commerce commission, that the long and short haul provision will not become effective until the commission shall have had opportunity to pass upon the merits of applications by the railroads for relief.

Crack Postoffice Safe.

Mount Holly, N. J., Feb. 1.—Safe crackers got into the postoffice at Medford and after blowing open the safe with nitro-glycerine took all the money and stamps. Entrance was gained through a side door. The safe was completely wrecked. Postmaster Holmes has not determined the loss.

Carrie Nation Improved.

Leavenworth, Kan., Feb. 1.—The condition of Carrie Nation, who is in a sanitarium for a nervous breakdown, is much improved. The attending physician says she will be able to leave the sanitarium in less than a month.

Some soap manufacturers claim that their product is "as good" or "as pure" or "as cheap" as Ivory.

Possibly it is. But neither you nor any other sensible woman will bother with the "as good" kind! You want real Ivory Soap; not an imitation.

In five minutes you get such wonderful relief that you will know that at last you have a cure for catarrh.

People's Drug Store have sold a whole lot of Rheuma these last few months, and if it didn't do as advertised they could not afford to make the offer.

MEADOW FESCUE.

For several years past meadow fescue has been an important crop in the United States department of agriculture. The acreage devoted to this grass has, however, been extremely variable. The fluctuating tendency is due chiefly to changes in the price of seed. The meadow fescue seed crop has in some years reached a total valuation of over $150,000 in a very limited section of the state. The demand for meadow fescue seed is quite limited; hence an undue expansion in production has caused in several years a decided fall in price. The merits of the grass are such, however, that it is believed that a better knowledge of its usefulness will result in its being employed much more extensively, especially for permanent pastures throughout the timothy region.

Meadow fescue is also locally known as English blue grass notwithstanding the fact that in England it is called meadow fescue. The name English blue grass should be discarded for the established name meadow fescue, as the use of both leads to confusion.

Meadow fescue sown alone furnishes scant pasturage during the hot summer months, and its lack of root stocks prevents its taking first rank as a pasture grass in any region where Kentucky blue grass does well. Its value at present is fully appreciated only in the eastern parts of Nebraska and Kansas. It is quite probable that in

Lord Lyttleton came over to New York in search of a wife. He brought letters to me, and I put him up at those clubs to which I belonged. I didn't need to introduce him to our set because it was known he was coming, and all the women with marriageable daughters—I mean those who are looking for foreign titles—flooded him with invitations as soon as he arrived.

I had a matrimonial scheme on hand myself. I didn't need money, you know, having a couple of hundred thousand income, but I liked Miss Auchincloss, who had as much more. There are those of us well to do people who don't wish to be bothered making money. We usually marry among ourselves, so you see it was possible for Miss Auchincloss and me to consider love just like ordinary people. Well, I introduced the Englishman to her, and what did he do but make up to her and offer himself.

The first I knew of it Miss Auchincloss sent for me and told me—mind you, I hadn't proposed to her—that she was intending to accept my lordly friend.

"Love match?" I asked, controlling my surprise.

"Nonsense!"

"Of course. We all wish to get up in the social scale, and say what you like, a title is always a step higher than no title."

"How about the man you have to take with it?"

"Lyttleton is passable."

"Well?"

"What do you think of it?"

"It'll be a good thing for me. I don't see how a man can put another more under obligations to himself than by introducing him to a girl he hoped to get for his wife and giving her up to him. When I go to London I'll have some one to do a lot for me. Does he know of my pretensions?"

"Not till I told him."

"Well, goodby. You have accepted him, I suppose."

"Yes, but we're not to be married for a year. I'm to go over and have a look at the castle. He says $100,000 for repairs will be required."

"Well, I wish you joy in your title."

I bade her goodbye, and, going to my club, I found Lyttleton.

"Hello, old chap!" he said. "Glad to see you."

"Accept my congratulations upon your engagement."

"She's told you, has she? Well, old fellow, she told me she has turned you down for me. Deuced poor taste, you know. Don't see how she could have done it. By the bye, you couldn't let me have a matter of £1,000 or so for a few weeks? I'm getting remittances of rents from my agents due a month from today."

"Certainly. Two thousand if you like."

I wrote him a check for $10,000, and before he left the country I had lent him $10,000 more. This giving up my girl to him and lending him these sums I think was, to say the least, magnanimous. I told him I should be over the water soon after his arrival, whereupon he said perhaps I wouldn't mind waiting payment till I reached there. I told him it wouldn't trouble me at all.

Of course the first thing I did on reaching London was to notify him of my arrival. He came right down to my hotel and shook both my hands heartily.

"There's one thing about it over here," he said, his exuberant welcome sobering down, "our clubs don't allow introducing strangers at all. It's awfully disappointing not to be able to put you up, old chap, but I can't, you know."

"Oh, it doesn't matter," I said. "I suppose I'll meet some nice people in other ways."

"So you will; so you will. But why didn't you come in the season? Most of my friends are out of town."

"You mean at their country places. Aren't they to be seen there?"

"Certainly, on invitation. But, you know, their guests are all booked for this season. It's awfully awkward, you know."

"I see. Don't feel bad about it."

"I must be going now. I have an appointment with Colonel De Granville, one of the king's equerries. I'll telephone you as to my plans for you."

That was the last I saw or heard of Lyttleton, and as for my loans they are loans yet.

I was about to return to America when I received a note from Miss Auchincloss asking me to come to see her. She was at a hotel, which surprised me.

"Having a pleasant visit?" she asked. "Fine."

"Seeing lots of the aristocracy?"

"Loads of them."

"She broke into a laugh."

"Got the money you loaned Lyttleton?"

"How did you find out about that?" She laughed again. "A little bird told me."

I sat tapping my foot with my cane. "It's all off between Lyttleton and me. I never intended to marry him without an investigation. I've made it."

Miss Auchincloss and I went home on the same steamer and when we arrived were engaged.

Gimme that there ole time cook stove! Gimme it though red with rust, With its kittle singin' merry, Boilin', steamin' most to bust.

Gimme that ole redhot cook stove With big oven nice an' hot, When my shins is gittin' chilly She's the stuff to hit the spot.

THE WHITE EMBDEN GOOSE.

PERTINENT PARTICULARS.

If Toulouse geese did not begot white sports we might believe the German legend that a wild white swan flew down, mated with a gray gander, nested, and hence the White Embden.

The Dutch are goose epicures, eating over a million a year, but to English gander geniuses goes the credit of improving the Embden, and then American rooster tinkers put on the finish when they bred out foreign color, the dewlap, the deformed, fatty abdomen, and gave the fowl more grace, egg capacity and finer flesh.

White is a la mode for poultry today, and the White Embden fits this fancy.

America is entering the goose era, and this is only the turning of a page in goose history.

along to Gaul, and fashionable France now revels in fat goose liver and garlic. So don't sidestep, for geese is now the go and White Embden the whole show.

Wild geese pair, but we nature fakers have made poultry polygamous, so mate up your Embden gander to four geese, and do this months before breeding season. Geese sometimes live 100 years and breed well to twenty-five, but after that they get too heavy and the ganders dangerous.

Males from two to five years and geese from two to twelve breed best.

Ganders are dog haters. So to tell sex just put Fido in the coop and watch them go for him while the geese look on.

Real Embdens are pure white; eyes are blue; bills, shanks, feet deep orange.

The gander is larger than the goose, but should be about same in shape.

They should be massive, compact, deep, with broad flat back, full, wide, round breast, long massive neck, large head, strong, round thighs, short, stout shanks, straight toes, big flappers.

EMBDEN STANDARD WEIGHTS.

Adult gander..... 20 Pounds. Adult goose..... 15 Pounds. Young gander..... 15 Pounds. Young goose..... 12 Pounds.

DON'TS.

Don't kick. Man is said to descend from the ape, not the mule; but, if true, it does not pay in this progressive day to play the monkey or be a Jack.

Don't forget if you are starting an egg farm that single comb White Leghorns of laying strain are it for eggs from California to Maine.

Don't pass by Light Brahmas if you are raising capons. They reach the size that takes the prize.
